New Card Type – Madness

This set contains five cards of a new type: Madness! A Madness card is played like a Curse – if you draw it face up, you acquire it. If you draw it face down, you can give it to another player at any time.

Any card or power that affects a Curse will also affect a Madness. The reverse is NOT true . . . cards and powers that specifically affect Madness do not affect Curses. And note that even though we were insane, and called one of the Cultist powers “Madness,” that power is not affected by cards that can remove Madness cards from players.

Madnesses are, on the whole, bad to have, but every one has an advantage, too.

A Wishing Ring can be used to get rid of any Madness (again, just like a Curse). A Sudden Head Blow will get rid of ALL Madness cards its victim has, in addition to the effects printed on the card.

If you die, you keep your Madnesses. Your new character will be just as crazy as the old one.

Item Enhancers

Some cards are Item Enhancers. These must be played on an Item you already have in play; they cannot be played by themselves. They add to the combat bonus of the Item or give the Item new abilities. You cannot move an Item Enhancer to a new Item once you have played it.

Crossovers

● Steeds – The Green Reaper card counts as a Steed, if you have a Munchkin supplement with Steed rules. If you are using Munchkin Impossible, it’s a Vehicle, of course. Otherwise, just follow the instructions on the card.

● Thief class – When a Thief gets Madness: Kleptomania, it does not change his powers, because the Kleptomania game mechanic (NOT coincidentally) is the same as the Thief mechanic. It just means that the Thief must try to steal at least one item whenever it is his turn. He may still try thefts at other times if he wants to.

● Cowboy class – What? Cowboys? There’s no such class as Cowboy. Well, not here. But if you add The Good, the Bad, and the Munchkin, you can drop the Squidskin Boots into that game if you want to . . . Ia Cthulhu, pardner!

More Munchkin!

Munchkin comes in lots of flavors! You can get classic fantasy, sci-fi, silly horror, superheroes, pirates, cowboys, kung-fu, spies, and zombies . . . and they’re all compatible!
